

Integrative Pediatrics

Safe passage in a changing world.

Over the last several weeks, our humanity has been gruesomely reminded of the injustice and inequality that continues to stain our country.

As a medical leader in our community, Integrative Pediatrics understands and embraces our responsibility to fight for human dignity and equality.

People have, and always will be, the number one priority for our clinic. We have united to fight for medical freedom, and the right to choose how we vaccinate our children. Let us unite to stand for all freedom by this commitment to stand against all injustice and bigotry - overt or implied.

While we fight for medical freedom, we stand with the growing voices speaking out for the dismantling of systemic racism and the rebuilding of a more equitable and just world. While we acknowledge there is more work to be done, we are committed to doing our part.

Our clinic prioritizes diversity and inclusion in the workplace. We understand to provide the best care, we must not only reflect the diversity of our patients and partners, but implement the very culture of inclusion, love and acceptance that we want to see in the world.

As a company we are committed to listening, learning, and supporting our employees and patients as we strive to drive the country forward.

Although focused on informed consent, Integrative Pediatrics' core mission is to guide parents through a safe passage in a changing world. This undoubtedly applies here and now, too.

Join this vital civil rights movement. All freedom won fuels all freedom efforts.

Warm Regards,

Dr. Paul Thomas
